2003-08-12, Tuesday, Paddling Northeast Creek

Dale Weston, Tom Hill and the writer put in at Tarrawas Terrace ramp in Camp Lejeune. The trash was heavy as the pictures well show. We made our way to the west along the shore and around the point past the boy scout area and up the small creek. That is as far as we made it. We got back to the ramp at 3:00.

The shore line was very pretty with sandy beaches, green growth and wild flowers, marsh grasses and tall pines intermittently appearing as we paddled and picked our way along.
